THEME - DEDICATION

THIS is the story of five years . . . years of hope, striving, and achievement. It has been said by the sages of old that there is no true measure of time, for it changes in different perspectives.

We, the Senior Class of 1952, have come to understand this concept of time and to appreciate its meaning. Five years ago when most of us entered Jefferson, the road ahead seemed endless. The Seniors of that day seemed old and wise, and many of us, in our minds and hearts, doubted that we would ever see it through. Today, we, the Eighth Grade Class looking back at the path we have followed, it seems to us much shorter, for we have achieved our goal. As time goes on, and as we take an ever important place in the life of our community and country, these five years at Jefferson will seem but just a moment of yesterday . . . a shiny moment to be remembered and cherished.

This, then, is the story of that moment of five years, dedicated by the Senior Class of 1952 to the student body of Jefferson who were part of it, and to the faculty who made it possible.

OUR courses of study at Jefferson are varied, but each plays its role in the world around us. We study mathematics so that we may better understand the world of science and commerce. Art gives us an appreciation of the aesthetic values of life. Through Latin and Italian we develop a richer background for our own culture.

HERE are times in our life at Jefferson when we combine learning by doing with learning by studying. Foremost among these are the courses in office practice and typing which are increasingly important in our world of commerce. In addition, the courses in chemistry and biology help us to understand better the complex world of science.

THE CLASS OF 1952 RECALLS - - -

*A*s the Class of 1952, we can look back across the past five years with fond memories and a glowing satisfaction at the accomplishments of these years.

In September of 1947, we entered Jefferson as eighth graders and felt as though we had been cast into a strange, new world. The buildings and teachers were new to us and we wondered if we would ever become used to them. Slowly, however, the newness began to wear off and we became a part of Jefferson as Jefferson became a part of us.

We returned to school in the fall of 1948 with a renewed enthusiasm for now we were true Jeffersonians, ready and eager to take an ever important place in our studies, athletics, and in the social life of our school.

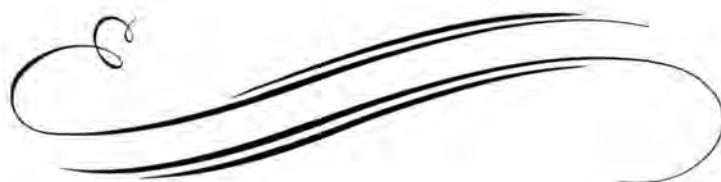

Our sophomore year found us as the group that thought we had mastered everything, though in reality we knew very little. We found ourselves slowly moving up to positions of greater prestige in our social life at Jefferson.

When September of 1950 came around, we began to feel more like the class of '52. We were juniors, and proud of having attained that position in our school community. The greatest thrill of all came on moving up day, when at last we had reached the pinnacle of our high school careers. We were seniors.

Seniors. That was a magic word to us. We finally came into the spot light -- we were the elite of Jefferson High School. Under the capable leadership of our class president, William Clementi, we were really going to make our last year at Jefferson one to be remembered for all time. We will never forget the excitement of our senior prom or of the eagerness with which we looked forward to the senior banquet. We were busy in many school activities, for in our subconscious mind, we knew that time was running out, and we wanted to drink a full cup of pleasure before our leaving.

Looking back at it all, we feel as though our stay at Jefferson has been a book of five chapters, each covering a year of our lives. The book is coming to an end, for our goal, graduation, looms in view. Our studies, the fun we had, and the lasting friendships we have acquired are all part of the book called the Class of 1952.

As we leave the halls of our Alma Mater, we pass the banners we have tried to hold so high to our successors with a fervent hope that they carry them on unblemished in the best traditions of democracy and freedom. May we, in our future lives, keep a warm place in our hearts full of fond memories of our school years at Jefferson, for they are truly to be cherished forever.

ALMA MATER

O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
 We raise this song to thee;
 The mem'ries dear that linger here
 Are bound with loyalty.
 O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
 This joyful lay now hear;
 Within thy walls, thy hallowed halls,
 Our praises still ring clear.

O hail to thee, dear Jefferson,
 Out hearts, our thoughts, are true;
 This solemn vow is given now,
 A pledge of love to you.
 Though fate may draw us far away
 And other duties call,
 The friendships gained will be retained
 To bind and hold us all.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

WE, the Senior Class of 1952, sound in body, soul, and mind, knowing full well the value of our many and diversified gifts, do hereby bequeath to the faculty and to the undergrads, the following:

To Mr. Swift, we leave the memories and the gray hairs that accompany a class through high school.
To Miss Bullock and Mr. Martin, we leave our everlasting gratitude for their patience, understanding, and guidance.
To Mr. Lowell, we leave a cast of outstanding orators and stars, destined to fame.
To Mrs. Sciarratta, we leave our pleas to admit more Seniors into the library.
To Mr. Fotch, we leave one-hundred shares of General Motors' preferred stock.
To Mrs. Suter, we leave a copy of Emily Post.
To Mr. Kirchoff and Mr. Fauth, we leave the sighs and good-byes of all Senior girls.
To Mrs. Seibold, we leave a strong, str-o-o-ong will power.
To Mr. Truitt, we leave our appreciation for the best in music.
To Mr. Paris, we leave the hysteria caused by his white mice.
To Miss Hutchinson, we leave more scholars for the National Honor Society.
To Mrs. Schreib, we leave the worries of tackling another yearbook.
Joanne Keenan leaves her high I.Q. to any needy Juniors.
Ralph Zecchino leaves his voice ringing in the auditorium.
Theresa Berardicurti leaves her chuckle and smile to Joanie Riola.
Sam Amato leaves Joe Piccarreto and Tony Thomas.
Antoinette Sanguedolce leaves Miss Cazeau's office.
George ("Chokie") Joseph leaves his basketball prowess to Cosmo Raimondi.
Lillian DeFeo leaves with a tear in her eye.
Jim Johnson leaves his "warm and tender heart" to Sam DeMarzo.
John Taddeo leaves, covering his tracks behind him.
Rachel Candusio refuses to leave the gossip to anyone.
Jerry Adduci leaves his flute virtuosity to Noreen Galo.
Joe Bonazza leaves the Journal Staff.
Madeline Bovenzi leaves her "hostess apron" to Sally Reynolds.
Anthony ("I'm flabber-gasted") Stornelli leaves the memory of his acting debut.
Rosalind Rotoli leaves her wardrobe to Marie Roncone.
Angelo Piperni leaves his wardrobe to Andy Cuccaro.
Chuck Buonaugurio leaves the correct pronunciation of his name to all teachers.
Mike Capurso leaves for the nearest restaurant.
Loretta Palozzi leaves her vim and vigor to Lucy Ciupo.
Drew O'Neill leaves his Irish Temperament.
Lucille Morrell leaves her sparkling eyes to Carol Ellis.
Angelo Isgro leaves his "full nelson" to Tommy Nacca.
Ann DiCicco leaves Miss McCarty free of worries.
Louie Vallone leaves----fortunately!
"Tootsie" Riola leaves her place in Jeff Singers to Joanne Palmer.
George Franke leaves his radical theories unsolved.
Susie Napolitano leaves her sister "Nettie"
Roger Conderman leaves -- with his hot-rod, of course!
Marion Patton leaves her "man problems" to Stella Ricotta.
Bill Clementi leaves his harem to Franklin Polvino.
Marlene Raetz leaves the best-treated li'l typewriter ever.
Dick Rogers leaves his brain saturated with mathematical formulae.
Mary Conte leaves her notes to the succeeding S.A. Secretary.
Warren Ellis leaves his nitro-glycerine to next year's chemistry class.
Rose Marie Simeone leaves the National Honor Society's treasury in good hands -- we hope!
Mike Taddonio leaves his good looks to Anthony Carsone.
Flora Towers leaves the lunchroom cash-register.
Ted Pucher leaves in quest of new adventure.

We hope that memories of the class of 1952 will long remain in the hearts and minds of all Jeffersonians.
